If rural views, an aperitivo deck, and the game-changing value of a lined garden studio ring your bell, then this 1950s country gem will really hit home - and its unique charm brings the whimsy you never knew you needed.

Beyond the three-bedroom home's decorative façade and secure front gates, its elevation is its shining light - with a warm welcome supported by high ceilings, polished timber floors, and the living zone's new feature pendants and corner burst of priceless hills views.

The adjacent bedroom - with robes - dreams just as big through its own front tinted garden lens, veiled in seasonal garden glory.
